Summary Description

The musician has written this work due to the current climate and uncertainty in the world, as he says “having a voice” and this form of composing and creation in popular music is not unusual from creative artists and individuals in the past. This has been a trend particularly in the music industry, especially the 1960’s, 1970’s and 1980’s, with notable bands and artists such as; The Beatles, Rolling Stones, George Michael, The Who, The Strawbs and others.

The composition has been written to resonate and echo the concerns of music lovers, fans and citizens of the world in these uncertain times. We hope the new single record release will become a popular style and theme in music, that is a familiar style of writing and creation especially in the 1960’s and 1970’s with peaceful protest lyrics, crafted in a way so they can be sung by any music lover and fan, enjoyed by all.

Radio and Distribution

We hope the new single record release is given great media coverage and air play by radio stations, especially ones concerned about our environment and the well-being of folk in society.
